About ICFP

A Platform. A Movement. A Community.

The 7th International Conference on Family Planning

Since its inaugural convening in Kampala, Uganda in 2009, the International Conference on Family Planning (ICFP) has become a pivotal catalyst in global reproductive health. This world conference is a strategic inflection point for nations, institutions, and individuals seeking to pledge commitments and celebrate successes in family planning and reproductive health.

More than a conference, ICFP has evolved into a digital platform resonating with researchers, health equity champions, governments, and local organizations alike. It's a dynamic movement propelling universal family planning access, underpinned by a vibrant community fueled by collaboration, inclusivity, innovation, and scientific integrity.

ICFP stands as a testament to our shared commitment to shaping a world where every individual's reproductive health is safeguarded, and where the principles of partnership, progress, and empowerment illuminate the path forward.

Vision

A connected and informed global community advancing, achieving, and safeguarding universal access to family planning, sexual and reproductive health and rights.

ICFP envisions a collective, cross-sectoral movement rooted in scientific rigor, local ownership, and intergenerational leadership that employs policies, programs, and practices to drive transformative change in global health equity.

Mission

ICFP is a dynamic, multi-sectoral platform, movement, and community that champions the global exchange of evidence-based ideas, inspiration, and information to strengthen country, regional, and global impact.

ICFP propels policy advancements, cultivates innovative research and best practices, reinforces advocacy networks, amplifies community voices, strengthens technical capacities, and catalyzes action towards achieving universal access to family planning. ICFP creates intentional spaces to ignite conversation and build networks to nurture a global movement towards a healthier, more equitable world. With a strategic focus on digital spaces and interdisciplinary collaboration, ICFP bridges diverse perspectives to drive transformative change through co-created programming, community dialogues, and strategic partnerships.

Featured Sponsorship Opportunity

UPLIFTING YOUTH

CHAMPION YOUTH INVOLVEMENT AT ICFP

Cost: $3,000

You can directly sponsor youth leaders (aged 18–35) to attend, organize, and flourish at ICFP 2025! Youth sponsored include, but are not limited to, regional youth leaders, ICFP Youth Trailblazer alumni, ICFP Junior Researchers, individuals from youth-led organizations part of the AYSRHR Global Roadmap for Action coalition, and individuals from the 120 Under 40: New Generation of Family Planning Leaders awardees.

Available to any individual or organization, this sponsorship opportunity includes a special indicator on your delegate conference badge, worn at all times in the conference center, indicating your financial support for the next generation of leaders in the global family planning and reproductive health field and their efforts at ICFP (one badge indicator per youth sponsored).

Youth sponsors will be invited to attend the Lunch with Leaders event (limited space available) during the ICFP 2025 Youth Summit. There, they will be able to meet with selected youth delegates to discuss trending sexual and reproductive health issues affecting youth from their country/region. See the “Tiers” on page 4 for more opportunities to sponsor the ICFP 2025 Youth Summit.
